Wedding Terms and Conditions

For bookings after 6 April 2022.

General

1. Please make sure all contact details supplied are correct.
2. The timescales are a guide. All services will be completed as soon as possible with any unlikely delays notified.
3. "You", "your" refers to the wedding couple.

Booking

1. The booking is completed following a deposit payment.
2. Failure to pay the deposit as soon as possible after requesting a booking may mean the wedding date is offered to another couple.
3. The deposit will be put towards a wedding coverage package, with the balance payment due one calendar month before the wedding. Failure to pay the wedding coverage package balance will cancel the wedding booking and the deposit will be retained.
4. Wedding coverage packages can be upgraded before the wedding day after the balance has been paid. Payment will be due before the wedding day.
5. Wedding coverage packages can only be downgraded after balance payment in the event of government epidemic/pandemic social restrictions cancelling the wedding breakfast/evening reception or restricting the number of people attending for ceremony only coverage.
6. Provisions for a main meal or a working lunch in the venue bar or designated supplier area are much appreciated for weddings having coverage continuing after the wedding breakfast.
7. Any travel or accommodation expenses will be quoted prior to booking. This could include petrol, parking charges, congestion charges, food, and accommodation expenses. No expenses will be added after the booking has been completed providing the wedding ceremony and reception venue/s listed on the booking form do not change.
8. Any changes to venue/s listed in the booking form may incur travel or accommodation expenses.
9. Any visitor parking permits or parking payments for the photographer's vehicle at any residential address (e.g. for preparations) are to be arranged and paid for by the wedding couple. Free parking is also to be provided for any ordering or delivery appointments after the wedding.
10. All wedding coverage packages at the time of booking will be honoured. Prices for products, any special offers, and terms and conditions are subject to change 6 months after the wedding day.
11. Albums can be pre-ordered and paid for before the wedding. They are non-refundable but can be upgraded to an alternative album or product, before the proofing process starts once all photographs have been edited.
12. Payments for albums and other products before the wedding will be considered part of the wedding coverage balance payment where the postponement and cancellation policy is concerned providing they have not been sent off for printing.
13. By special request for large weddings a second photographer quote can be given for their attendance on the day and subsequent extra post production work for Diane Frazer Photography. This is available as an extra service after booking and subject to availability. Prices may vary depending on other photographers' availability and their rates. Any cancellation of the second shooter by the wedding couple will not be refunded. Payments will only be transferable to another Diane Frazer Photography product or service if the second shooter hasn't charged Diane Frazer Photography a cancellation fee.

Postponement or Cancellation

1. The deposit is non-refundable 30 days after payment to complete the booking has been received.
2. In the unlikely event the wedding day is postponed any deposits and coverage balance payments made can be transferred to the new date, subject to availability.
3. Should Diane Frazer Photography have another booking on the rearranged day or a request to cancel the booking is made, a refund of any wedding coverage package balance paid will be given. The deposit will be retained as compensation for income turned away after reserving the date exclusively.
4. An exception will be made to postponements or cancellations whereby a wedding photography service cannot be offered to any other couple on the same day. This includes a natural disaster or government restrictions in an epidemic/pandemic. A deposit refund will be given after an attempt to transfer the booking to a new date, providing the pre-wedding meeting has not taken place.
5. Deposit refunds for wedding couples who cancel their wedding photography but continue to get married on a new or the original date will be only be given (providing the pre-wedding meeting has not taken place) if the photographer is not permitted to supply any form of photography service. This excludes the circumstance of couples choosing to cancel their photography service in favour of inviting a guest when the photographer's attendance is included in restricted guest numbers. Refunds will be issued, if applicable, following written confirmation from the venue confirming the photographer is not permitted onsite at any time during the wedding day including outdoor areas before and/or after the ceremony due to epidemic/pandemic social distancing government restrictions. A small bespoke wedding package will be arranged if the photographer is only permitted in outdoor areas and subsequently unable to photograph an indoor ceremony.
6. Bringing the wedding date forwards for any circumstance with less than 72 hours notice giving the photographer minimal or no time to prepare their equipment and/or travel to the venue will be considered unreasonable. This will be treated as going ahead without the photographer and subsequently a cancellation of the photography, if the photographer is unable to arrive prepared at the venue in time. The deposit will be retained to cover any pre-wedding meeting work done and/or as compensation for other bookings turned away on the original date.
7. Deposit refunds for wedding couples who decide not to get married will only be given (providing the pre-wedding meeting has not taken place) if their venue is closed for weddings on their wedding date or the registrars cancel due to a natural disaster or government restrictions in an epidemic/pandemic. Refunds will be issued, if applicable, after the wedding date following written confirmation from the registrar/place of worship of their intentions to no longer get married on an alternative date when a photography service could be supplied.
8. In the event the wedding couple are forced to self isolate under government epidemic/pandemic restrictions on the date of their wedding a refund will be given (providing the pre-wedding meeting has not taken place) if a photography service cannot be supplied on an alternative date due to unavailability of the photographer, photographer's attendance onsite denied due government social restrictions (excluding cancelling in favour of inviting a guest when numbers are restricted) or cancellation of their intent to marry.
9. In the event of a deposit being retained because the pre-wedding meeting has taken place wedding couples will receive digital copies of their engagement portraits as downloads.
10. Refunds, if applicable, will be given using the same payment method monies were received to the person who paid.
11. For those choosing to pay by PayPal (debit/credit card or PayPal account), a percentage of the payment is non-refundable in all circumstances when a pay later offline alternative fee exempt method (internet banking or cheque) is offered. This retainable percentage is subject to change by PayPal at any time with no notice. An advisory of the amount will be included in your invoice and subject to change if making payment is delayed. For these PayPal transactions the cooling off period will be determined as the time between completing the booking form/placing an order on the Diane Frazer Photography website and paying separately after reviewing the invoice at the buyer's convenience.

12. In the event Diane Frazer is hospitalised, forced to self isolate under government epidemic/pandemic social restrictions or unable to travel to the venue/s due to adverse weather conditions Diane Frazer Photography has a procedure in place to find another photographer as emergency cover. In the first instance cover will be found for the wedding day itself at no additional cost to the wedding couple. The editing and the rest of the wedding photography package service will be completed by Diane Frazer Photography.
13. In some circumstances cover for the complete job including editing and delivery of images may be required. Emergency cover procedures will be put in place to help find a replacement photographer. A refund of the balance payments will be given for the wedding couple to use to pay the new photographer and the contract with Diane Frazer Photography cancelled. The deposit will be refunded too providing the pre-wedding meeting has not taken place. Diane Frazer Photography will not be liable for any price differences should the alternative photographer taking on the booking wish to charge more for the same, similar, or different service at any time.
14. In the event of postponement on more than one occasion or cancellation of a rearranged wedding day the same terms and conditions will apply.

Pre-wedding Meeting

1. The pre-wedding meeting will take place at the wedding venue approximately 2 to 3 months before the wedding day. Should the venue refuse permission a suitable nearby location will be suggested.
2. In the event either the Bride and/or Groom is no longer able to attend the pre-wedding meeting for whatever reason, including self isolating under government restrictions in the event of an epidemic/pandemic, please contact Diane Frazer Photography to rearrange at the earliest possible notice. In the event of self isolation a new date is to be arranged when the entire household have finished isolating for the length of time advised by the government.
3. There is no charge to rearrange for another day. A portrait session fee of £125 will apply for an additional meeting to take the engagement portraits in the event only one half of the couple turn up.
4. In the event of social restrictions enforced by the government in an epidemic/pandemic, pre-wedding meetings may take on a different format to be completed if the wedding is due to take place on the original date. The portraits will be taken from a safe distance in the venue grounds (if open and permitted) or an alternative safe location compliant with any government guidelines. Discussing photography requirements and wedding day timings will be done via video call or phone to reduce in person contact time.
5. If the wedding takes place on the first day after social/travel restrictions are lifted by the government or the Bride, Groom or Diane Frazer have been forced to self isolate in the event of an epidemic/pandemic and subsequently the pre-wedding portrait session hasn't been able to take place at any location prior to the wedding, a £125 discount/refund towards the photography coverage will be given. In the event last minute appointments are offered but not suitable for the pre-wedding portrait session a, £125 Diane Frazer Photography gift voucher will be issued to be put towards an album or any other product.
6. Wedding couples who have their engagement portraits taken at their venue before postponing or purchase a portrait session prior to booking and subsequently receive a gift voucher of the same value towards their photography coverage, can have a second meeting via phone, video call or at a location near to the photographer's home to discuss their wedding day schedule. Amendments can also be made to the photography schedule via email.
7. The pre-wedding meeting engagement portraits can be purchased before the wedding. They will also be complimentary as downloads after the wedding coverage balance has been paid.
8. Wedding couples wishing to purchase anything for display at the wedding are to order and pay for the item/s at least one month before to ensure they are ready for the wedding day.

For this reason preview photographs will only be available to download once the rest of the collection is finished as soon as possible.
